Charting the Course for Excellence

Dear Students, Parents, and Members of the Loyola International School Community,

It is with great pride that I send forth this newsletter, which highlights the activities and events organized during the First Term. Each of these activities, projects and competitions serves as a means for the holistic development of every child at our school.

As John Dewey, the well-known educationist and psychologist once said, "If we teach today's students as we taught yesterday's, we rob them of their tomorrow". We at Loyola International School put in great efforts to organize these activities and events that encourage our children to go beyond the textbooks and four walls of the classrooms. These activities help them explore the possibilities, improve their skills and prepare themselves for the future world. Children not only enjoy these, but unknowingly learn collaboration, communication, critical thinking and so on. And of course, the joy of creativity is unparalleled!

Recently, our students participated in several cluster-level sports competitions hosted by various CBSE Schools in Qatar and emerged with flying colours. Beyond winning, they learn the skill of collaborative problem solving, time management, teamwork and resilience which will help them thrive in the future world.

I wish to take this opportunity to extend my heartfelt gratitude to the parent community for your constant support and cooperation. Without you, dear parents, we are incomplete. So let's continue to work together and strengthen the partnership between home and school, to bring up happy children. I am sure that you will take some time from your busy schedule to see through this newsletter and will appreciate the great efforts of our students and teachers. I look forward to receiving your comments about this newsletter.

A Joyous Milestone at Loyola International School

On September 5th, Loyola International School marked a momentous occasion—10 glorious years of nurturing minds and hearts through holistic education. The event was a grand celebration, honored by the presence of Mr. Sachin D. Shankpal, First Secretary at the Embassy of India, who graced us as the Chief Guest.

We celebrated not only the school's decade-long journey but also the dedication of our teachers and members who have supported us throughout this time. Their touching stories and reflections added a deeply personal touch to the festivities.

Managing Director Mr. Anup Chakravarthy and Director-Operations Mr Sarat Koduru shared their inspiring journey from the inception of Loyola International School to its current standing, expressing profound gratitude for all the support and love from the community.

As we look back on these ten years, we are filled with pride and joy. Here's to many more years of excellence, growth, and shared success!

Journey of our Student Leaders

A leader is the one who knows the way, goes the way, and shows the way!

The student Council is truly a representative body who bridge the communication between the student body and the faculty. A fully laid-out election process gave the school its torch bearers. Recognizing and honoring them in the Investiture ceremony signified the reliance and confidence that the school consigns in the invested office bearers. The aim of institution for a Student Council is to enable our students to understand their rights, duties and responsibilities and to empower and train them to become leaders of tomorrow!
