Dear Loyolites,

As the first rays of a new academic year dawn upon us, we welcome you with open arms and eager hearts, ready to embark on a journey filled with growth, discovery, and excellence. At Loyola International School (LIS), education goes beyond textbooks, embracing a 360-degree framework that nurtures holistic development. Through practices like meditation, yoga, and sports, we foster emotional resilience and physical well-being, ensuring our students thrive both inside and outside the classroom. Our leadership program like Class Monitor roles, cultivate responsibility, teamwork, and confidence, while initiatives such as Star of the Month celebrate achievements and encourage positive aspirations.

Engaging practices like seating rotation, class libraries, and library monitors promote collaboration, literacy, and organization. Hands-on learning takes center stage with gardening, farming, and research, helping students connect with nature and develop critical thinking skills. Our commitment to sustainability shines through the Green School Ambassador program, inspiring young minds to champion eco-friendly initiatives.

Beyond academics, students explore their interests through LAMP, subject enrichment activities, and creative reflections, ensuring a dynamic learning experience. Our structured academic programs, including the Monday Test, CMS (Campus Management System), and regular Parent-Teacher Meetings, foster discipline, transparency, and continuous improvement.

The LIS spirit comes alive through vibrant celebrations like Annual Day, Super Saturdays, and Sports Day, instilling school pride and camaraderie. To strengthen our community, initiatives like Coffee with the Principal, Samanvay (School & Home Partnership), and Ikyem (Community Outreach Program) bridge the gap between home, school, and society, creating a nurturing and supportive environment.

With all these enriching experiences, we embark on an extraordinary year ahead, empowering students to paint the masterpiece of their academic voyage. Let's together, we make this year truly remarkable!

Yours in the Cause of Education,
